did you know?

The #1 most-needed

but least-donated item for homeless shelters is socks?

Socks are among the least donated because people often keep them until they wear out. This shortage keeps people without homes at a higher risk of disease and exposure to the cold.

Poor circulation puts feet at risk every day. Proper socks can provide a simple, but important layer of protection between these feet and limb threatening conditions.

On average, a pack of socks can cost anywhere from $8 to $26.

In the 10th century, having socks was a sign of social status yet today they have become a commodity, so much so that very little thought is given when we buy new pairs.

Each night in the United States, an estimated 600,000 people are homeless.

According to the Mayo Clinic, in cold enough conditions, frostbite can occur in 30 minutes or less! Warm, well-fitting socks can prevent this for many people.
